How has the fund performed?

This section tells you how this Series has performed since inception. How the Series has performed in the past does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future. Also, actual after-tax returns will depend on personal tax situations. Fund returns presented below are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce returns.

AVERAGE RETURN

A person who invested $1,000 in this Series since inception would have had $1,035.38 on August 31, 2011. This works out to an annual compound return of 0.97% a year.

YEAR-BY-YEAR RETURNS

This chart shows how this Series of the Fund has performed in each of the years shown below.

The Fund dropped in value in 0 of the past 2 years.

How risky is it?

When you invest in a fund, the value of your investment can go down as well as up. Excel Funds has rated this Fund's risk as low. For a description of the specific risks of this Fund, see the Fund's simplified prospectus.

Are there any guarantees?

Like most mutual funds, this Fund is not guaranteed or insured. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

Who is this fund for?

Excel Money Market Fund would be suitable for investors:

- who are income-oriented;
- planning to hold their investment for a shorter-term;
- seeking very low investment risk; and
- looking for a fund in which to invest pending a longer-term investment decision.

Before you invest in any fund, you should consider how it would work with your other investments and your tolerance for risk.

A word about tax

In general, you will have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay and/or when you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell units of this Series of the Fund. The Fund offers various series of units, and the fees and expenses may be different for each series. Ask about other series that may be suitable for you.

1 Sales charges

There is no sales charge on the purchase of Series F. Instead, you pay a fee directly to your dealer under its "fee-for-service" or "wrap account" program.

2 Fund expenses

You don't pay for these fees directly. They affect you because they reduce the returns of the Series. As at March 31, 2011 the expenses of the Series were 0.28% of its average value. This equates to $2.80 for every $1,000 invested.

What if I change my mind?

Under securities law in some provinces and territories, you have the right to:

- withdraw from an agreement to buy a mutual fund within two business days after you receive a simplified prospectus, or
- cancel your purchase within 48 hours after you receive confirmation of the purchase.

In some provinces and territories, you also have the right to cancel a purchase, or in some jurisdictions, claim damages, if the simplified prospectus, annual information form or financial statements contain a misrepresentation. You must act within the time limit set by the securities law in your province or territory.

For more information, see the securities law of your province or territory or ask a lawyer.
